GEORGE L. SCHUYLER DEAD.

FOR FIFTY YEARS A LEADER AMONG AMERICAN - YACHTSMES.

The Last Survivor of the Owners of the America Expires Suddenly on Board the Flagship of the New York Tacht Club in the Harbor of New London.

NEWFORT. July 31.-George L. Schuyler, the enly surviving donor of the America's Cup. ded suddenly shortly after midnight in his stateroom on board the steam yacht Electra. the flagship of the New York Yacht Club, while she was lying at anchor in New London harbor. Mr. Schuyler had been staying at the home of his two daughters in Jamestown, R. L. for several weeks, and left there on Wednesday for the Pequot House, New London, from which point, during the afternoon, he watched soon as the Electra anchored Commodors Gerry sent his gig ashore in charge of Capt. Wicks, who had orders to bring Mr. Schuyler on board. After dinner he chatted pleasantly with the Commodors and flag officers about the splendid showing of the vessels in the harbor, but while the meeting of Captains was bethe held on the quarterdeck he returned to the after cabin and lay down. He was seen to get up once and rest his head upon the table between his hands, as if in pain, but he made so complaint, and when the meeting adjourned at 10% o'clock he came out and seemed as jolly as ever, shaking hands with ex-Commodore James Smith and others on the quarterdeck. He returned to his stateroom on the port side aft soon after 11 o'clock in apparently the best

GEORGE L. SCHUTLER.

At 6 o'clock this morning Superintendent Reils Olsen, while passing Mr. Schuyler's stateroom, saw him half lying and half kneeling on the floor. Fleet Surgeon Morris J. Asch was called, but he was beyond aid. Dr. Asch said be had been dead several hours, and that death was due to heart failure caused by exhaustion and his old mailedy, the gout. Mr. Schuyler's death was a severe blow to the Commodore and his staff and to every one who had known the old yachtsman, for he had been beloved and respected by all. Mr. Schuyler's son Philip and his danghters were notified by telegraph of their lather's death, and after the Connecticut State Medical death, and after the Connecticut State Medical Examiner had given a rermit for the removal of the body to Newbort, the Electra steamed direct to Jamestown, opnosite Newbort, where the Commodore vi-ted the Misses Schuyler to learn their wishes as to the disposition of the body. They requested that it be sent to New York by the Fall River steamer. Before sending Mr. Schuyler's body ashore it was enclosed in a rosewook casket, which was draped with the New York Yacht Club's pennant and the yacht ensign, leaving the lace of the dead man in tiew. All hands were called air, and they stood grouped around the Commodore and his staff while he read the Episcopal service for the dead.

For more than half a century George Lee Behnyler had been known to the New York public as a vachtsman, latterly because of his connection with the New York Yacht Club, the famous yacht America and the cup she won from the hoyal squadron, and earlier as the Captain of the Dream, a shoop yacht of the Gamous yacht America and the cup she won from the hoyal squadron, and earlier as the Captain of the Dream, a shoop yacht of the guaint style of fifty years ago, whose model hanks upon the walls of the New York Yacht Club house. The Dream sailed in the first cruise of the New York Club in the Sound on Aug. 2.1844, just three days atterthe founding of the club. The fleet numbered nine yachts. It was on the afternoon of July 30, 1844, that fir, Schuyler, John C. Stevens, Hamilton Wilkes, John C. Jay, Louis A. Depau, George B. Rollins, James M. Waterbury, and James Boyers met on board the yacht Guncrack, then lying off the Battery, and organized the New York Yacht Club with John C. Stevens has Commodore. The club was not incorporated until several years later.

It was his connection with the famous schooner yacht America that gave him his chief reputation. He was one of the six original owners, the others heing John C. Stevens. Hamilton, J. Beekman Finlay, and Edwin A. Stevens. The America was isaunched in this city in 1851, and on Aug. 2s sailed the famous race with the Royal Yacht Squadron of England at Cowes. Isle of Wight. The America had been cruising in English waters, trying to arrance a match with some one of the crack English yachts without success. At length Commodore Stevens decided to enter the America in the regular regata to be sailed for the Royal Yacht Squadron Cup, valued at £100, which was one of the pachts of all nations. The America sailed over the country for nearly twenty years without a contest, and then Mr. James Asbury of the Mayflower showed her keel to Galatea, and in 1887 the Volunteer made prey of the Thistle.

In 1883 the cup was presented by the America's owners to the New York Yacht Club as a perpetual challenge cup. At a meeting of the club in December, 1882, it was returned to Mr. Behuyler, the only survivor among the original owners of the America, and two months later was deeded by him to the yacht club upon condition that it should be preserved as a perpetual challenge cup for composition with foreign countries. Believing that the old deed of glit was not suitably worded to secure the best results in case of another international contest, he altered it and gave the club, on Oct. 28, 1887, a new deed, which is the one now existing, whose conditions 'croign yachtsmen are unwilling to accopt. The America passed tho the hands of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, by whom she is now owned.

SOUTH CAROLINA RÉPUBLICANS. They Think That This is a Good Time to

the impending split in the Democratic party in South Carolina there is unusual activity at present among the Republicans. They have determined to make a fight in every Congressional district, and they propose to take a hand in the State election as well. The Republican programme is outlined by a prominent party leader as follows:

"Circulars have been sent to all prominent Republicans in every county in the State notifying them to be ready to respond on short notice to a call for a Republican State Convention in August soon after the meeting of the Democratic Convention which is to decide whether delegates to the September nominating Convention shall be chosen by county conventions or primary elections. We believe conventions or primary elections. We believe that there is no possibility of bringing together the two wings of the hemocratic party. If, however, the homocrats agree in August and there is no division, then we will apposit to the September Convention to give us a share of the minor officers in the county governments in proportion to our registered majorities.

"If this request be refused we will wait for another two years, when, if the Force bill be in force, we may try it single-handed against the whole Democratic party. But we believe that the division in the Democratic ranks with the so wide in the August Convention that two dickets will be put in the field. In that case we propose to make terms with one of the parties.

"What we want is a representation for our vote in the counties, but we will wait until after the adjournment of the Democratic Convention in August and see who will be the highest bidder for the vote. If there is no bid, overtures will be made to one party by our Convention, and the party which accepts the offer will sweep the field by 20,000 majority."

Congressman Belden Says the Force Bill

SYRACUSE, July 31.-The Hon. J. J. Belden came down from the Thousand Islands to-day and spent a few hours in Syracuse preparatory to his departure for Washington. Mr. Belden smiled when The Sun representative referred to the recent Force bill letter to Republican editors, and intimated that the document was editors, and intimated that the document was more the work of his Washington colleagues than himself. Regarding his candidacy for the United Sintes Senate Mr. Belden would say nothing. He did say, however, that the Force bill would in all probability be passed, as also the Tariff bill. The Congressman looked as brown as a hazel nut from aun baths in search of fish. The Belden "boom" for Senator here is meeting with the biggest encouragement among both parties.

Reception on Board the Baltimore.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July S1.-The flagship Baltimore was alive with 500 visitors to-day. The reception lasted from 3 to 6. There were 500 guests. A dinner and dance followed the reception. Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Miss Hattie Blaine, Senator and Mrs. Manderson, Senator and Mrs. Eugene Hale. Congressman Boutelle. Signore Valente, the Brazilian Min-ister, and Gens. Bennet, Thomas, and Dana, with their wives, shook hands with the Ad-miral. Mrs. Burks Roche, Mrs. Peter Cooper Hewitt, Mrs. Delancy Kane, Misses Kane, George Vanderbitt, Mrs. Burton Harrison, J. Biddle Forter and wife, and other noted New Yorkers were present.

Arraigned as a Common Scold.

TORONTO, July 31,-Mrs. Annie Pope was charged in the Police Court to-day with being common scold, and nearly a dozen neighbors swarmed into the court to give evidence. The charge is laid under a very old act. One of the accusations is that the prisoner called another woman "a devil." "a red-headed sinner." and threatened to smash her with a block, and to break her neck. This old law provides that the punishment for a common scold shall be inflicted by the ducking stool, and it was this fact which induced the magistrate to commit the woman for trial by a higher court to test the constitutionality of the act.

450 People Burned Out of Their Homes. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 31 .- At 3 o'clock this afternoon fire started in a Hungarian settlement in the east end of Braddock, an Iron town nine miles up the Monongairela River, and in a nine miles up the Monongabela River, and in a short time thirty-eight houses were consumed. Among these were a dozen brick residences owned by Americans, but the remaining were frame houses of two stories and occurried by Humarian isborers. These thirty-eight houses contained 125 families, embracing 459 people, who turned out pell-mell into the street. The loss is $100,000.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., July 31.-The scarcity of water in the Ameterdam city reservoir is becoming serious. If rain does not come soon there will be a water famine. The mills have been prohibited from using water. Inspectors have been appointed who go from house to house to look after irregularities in its use. The New York Central and Hudson River Hailroad, which formerly used a large quantity of water, has also been cut off.

Drowned While Trying to Save Life, HONESDALE, Pa., July 31,-Miss Laura Metzgar of New York city, a guest spending the summer at the Delaware House, Lackawaren endeavored to-day to resome a boy from drowning who had fallen off a small bridge into the river. She was carried down stream by the swift current and drowned. A gentleman jumped in and saved the boy, but the lady could not be reached. Her body was recovered.

RECRUITING AND DESERTING.

The Price of a Soldier's Discharge and the Interpretation of the New Law. WASHINGTON, July 31.—Recruiting for the army has been pushed with spirit this summer. The officers now engaged in it are finishing their work, and the new detail is to begin its tour on the lat of October. It will be under the charge of a regimental commander. Col. Elwall S. Otis, Twentieth Infantry, relieving Lieut.-Col. John J. Coppinger, Eightteenth Infantry, as superintendent. Fifteen company officers are to be selected for it, five being taken this year from the odd-numbered regiments of cavalry, and ten from odd-num bered infantry regiments. Gen. Schoffeld has enjoined upon regimental commanders. as usual, the propriety of considering the recruiting service not simply as a relief from the fatigue or monotony of frontier duty, but as one requiring officers qualified for it by energy. good judgment, and fidelity. Several of these officers have already been detailed, Meanwhile the present force has been making known the advantage of enlistment in Uncle Sam's service by an enterprising device. Not only does it have its handbills posted up in the towns and cities which it visits, but it has magnificent posters on which are depicted in attractive colors the cavalryman, the infantryman, and the artilleryman. By the aid of this colored lithograph the eye is caught, and, presumably, the soul of the observer is fired with martial ardor.

But even this poster must be less effective in drawing recruits than the measure which Congress enacted at the present session, allowing the soldier to buy his discharge; giving it to him free if he wants it at the end of three years, although the enlistment is for five: giving him at that time, also, whether he takes his discharge or not, a furlough of three months, with pay and allowances going on finally, adding hereafter a pound of vegetables there concentrated within the limits of a single bill so many inducements for the soldier not to desert and for the recruit to enlist. Not only is his palate appealed to, but doubts and teors lest after having got into the service he might be held for five years, although wanting to get out, are for the first time dispelled. Under such circumstances there ought to be a der such circumstances there ought to be a boom in recruiting.

Of special interest just now is the interpretation which the War Department has but upon the legislation of Congress, and the rules which it has made to carry out that legislation. The first need was to determine how much the soldier should pay for his discharge under the new purchase system. On the one hand, it was necessary not to make escare too easy; on the other, not to fix a price which he could not reach by saving his pay for the purches of one rational basis for computation was found in the average cost of recruiting a soldier, preparing him or service, and transporting him to his period and transporting him to his period and the saving his pay for the purchase price should decreate standily in approaching that time. The rule sacually settled upon is to exact the year of service and then make the discharge purchasable for $120 at the beginning of the second year, therefore it would cost $20; at the end of the second year, therefore, it would cost $20; at the end of the second year, $30; in the middle of the second year, therefore, it would cost $20; at the third year $30, and so for intermediate montha.

It had generally been conceded that the dis-middle of the second year, therefore, it would cost $100; in the middle of the shird year $30, and so for intermediate months.

It had generally been conceded that the discharge would cost $100 at least, and the present arrangement seems a fair one. As the new law keeps back $4 of each month's pay during the recruit's first year until the end of the service, as a guarantee against desertion, this alone insures him $45 at the end of that year toward his discharge. Should he save all his first year spay, which is $13 a month, he would just about be able to get free with it, as he has his clothing account to settle, and so on. But after the beginning of the second year every month will give him more means and a lower price, so that he may soon get to the happy equilibrium between his funds and the Government's charge.

There are other interesting points in the rules just issued. The War Department has construed the provision allowing discharge after three years service, together with a three months furiough, as having a retroactive effect, and applying to service rendered prior to the passage of the bill. Applications for discharge from soldiers who have served the severs have already been received, and we retrificate will no doubt be granted. This is certainly a most liberal construction of the act, since no such pledge was contained in the contract with soldiers who enlisted before its passage. On the other hand, only those who have enlisted subsequent to its passage are subject to the $4 monthly deduction.

Another evidence of the spirit of the War Department is shown by the addition of a rule not provised for in the statute itself, which contemplates discharges at any time to men who have served more than ten years. This cannot be claimed as a right, but the privilege will be granted when individual circumstances warrant and the gool of the service admits. No money is required for such discharges, but they are rewards for inithful service.

The whole tendency, in short, of the new legislation is to remove the

EVENTS BEYOND THE OCEAN. DESPERATE FIGHT WITH A MURDERER

IN LONDON STREETS. Man Killed in Germany Because He Ate His Son's Dinner-The Cost of Opening the Congo-Fatal Explosion. London, July 31 .- A shocking triple murder occurred at Kingeland, in this city, last night, which all the London papers characterize A discharged soldier named Hargan, alias

Harper, quarrelled with William Lambert and John Wheeler while sitting together in a barroom. The landlord ejected them. When outside, Hargan immediately drew a Colt's revolver and shot both men through the head. They fell dead on the sidewalk. The bystanders attempted to capture the murderer, who immediately shot again, killing a third man. An enormous and excited crowd then gathered around Hargan, who kept every one at bay, levelling his revolver and backing down the street. No one had the courage to make an attempt to capture him, until William Knif-

an attempt to capture him until William Knifton, a brother of the prize fighter, and another man grappled with him from behind.

Then began a desperate fight for life. Hargan managed to fire his revolver three times into the crowd without hitting Knifton or doing any damage. The fight lasted a quarter of an hour, during which time Knifton was nearly killed and Hargan nearly torn to pieces. His clothes were stripped from him, and when finally, anhausted and bleeding, he fell to the sidewalk, the crowd stamped on him, threw stones on him, and would have lynched him but for the arrival of a squad of police.

He was picked up in a dying condition and carried to the station house on a stretcher.

Hargan left the West Surrey Regiment three months ago and went to New York in search of employment. He was not successful in finding it and returned here a few days ago. While in New York he bought the revolver with which he ild the shooting.

He asserts that the dead men robbed him the night before, and at the station house, in giving his deposition, he said that he had served in America for a similar offence.

He says he has been a clerk in New York, also in Philadelphia. His full name is Walter Alfred Hargan, and he is evidently a man of some refinement and education.

SMALL COST OF A CONQUEST.

Eighty-two Lives and $5,000,000 Thus Far

BRUSSELS, July 31 .- The Mouvement Georaphique publishes a statement of the cost in money and lives of the conquest of the Congo during the eleven years from 1879 that King Leopoid has been carrying on his enterprise. The total number of deaths among the white agents of King Leopold in these eleven years is eightyof King Leopold in these eleven years is eightytwo. In the past six years, during which an average of 178 white agents have been constantly employed on the Congo. filty-six deaths have occurred. The largest white force was last year, when 226 white employees of the Congo State were at work and eleven deaths occurred, or 4.8 per cent.

The five lieigium commercial companies trading on the Congo employ 150 European agents and laborers, and in the two to three years of their existence these companies have lost only six then by death, two of them by accident.

tident The total expenditures of King Leonold in behalf of the Congo possessions in the past eleven years have been about $5.000,000, it is argued from these figures that, considering the ultimate value of the Congo, the cost of the ultimate value has thus far been remarkening the country has thus far been remark-

MURDERED HIS FATHER,

An Old Man Killed Because He had Enten All the Ment Cooked for Dinner.

Benlin, July 31 .- A letter from Schwarzenbrunn in Thuringia says John Emmers of San Antonio, Texas, returned to the village to see his old father, and was told by his brother that he had gone to a neighbor's house. Notwithstanding this statement, suspicions were aroused among the neighbors, who are Americans, that the man had been foully dealt with.

cans, that the man had been foully dealt with, and a search was instituted. The house dog was unchained to assist in this work, although the brother objected.

The dog at once ran to a manure heap on the farm. The searchers followed, and upon digging into the pile found the body of the old man. His skull was crushed and there was other evidence of murder on the body.

John's brother then confessed that he murdered his father with a hatchet in the presence of his intended bride. He explained that the cause of the crime was that his father had eaten all the meat cooked for dinner. The murderer and his bride buried the body where it was found. After the crime the dog was kept it was found. After the crime the dog was kept chained by the guilty brother. The murderer and his accomplice were arrested.

HARRY MARKS TURNS ON HIS FOES. An Atroclous Pamphlet About Him Arouses Him to Action.

London, July 31.-Harry H. Marks, who has been the object of a storm of libel actions during the past six months from persons whom he has exposed in the Financial News, has at last turned on his assailants. He obtained yester day a warrant for the arrest of George Wash-Ington Butterfield, an American mining speculater, who recently brought a libel action against the Financial News and was defeated.
It appears that Mr. Butterfield wrote a most It appears that Mr. Butterfield wrote a most airoclous and scurrifious templet concerning Mr. Marks and secured an unfortunate dupenamed John Morris to jublish it. On Saturday Butterfield left the country, presumably for the United States, and on Monday the pamphlet made its appearance. It was offered for sale by scores of boys in the vicinity of the Nock fixchange, and at Bethnal Green, where Marks is now standing for Parliament.

John Morris was arrested to-day and arraigned at the Lambeth Police Court. The magistrate held him for trial. The bill boards of London are placarded to-day with posters offering a reward of £25 for the arrest of George Washington Butterfield, who has made good his escape.

Bishop O' Dwyer and John Ditton LIMERICE. July 31.-At a meeting of the Limerick Corporation to-day a motion censuring Bishop O'Dwyer in connection with the case of John Dillon, was lost by three votes. An immense crowd outside the hall hooted at the members who had supported the motion. MISS LEWIS IS FOUND.

Seems to Mayo Been the Pault of the Mails that She Was Ever Supposed to be Lest. The excitement attending the disappearance of Miss Elizabeth E. Lewis from Pennington N. J., on July 11 and the alarm occasioned by it among her friends was all owing apparently to some serious defects in the mail service. Miss Lewis was discovered yesterday in the Ocean View House at Tlanna Bay, near Good Ground, L. I., where she has been employed for three weeks. She was not pleased at the not riety she had gained, and said she couldn't understand it. "I have written to my friends several times," she added, "and it is very curious if they haven't received my letters." She didn't care to talk about her departure from Pennington, but she finally said that after she left Pennington she went to Woodville she left l'ennington she went to Woodville where she visited friends who were shortly going to Lambertville, her former home.

It is true that I came away without any clothing, "she added," but that didn't bother me, and I have got along very well by berrowing a few articles and buying others. The truth is I had to find something to do. I answered an advertisament and went to New York to get the place, but I was too late, so I accepted this place.

It was the impression among Miss Lewis's friends that her anxiety to get work was on account of a small debt for which she was being iriends that her anxiety to get work was on account of a small debt for which she was being preaced.

"This was not the reason at all," said Miss Lewis. "I wanted work because I had not mousy enough to support myself in idleness all summer. I had saved up $60 from my pay as school teacher, but I lost It. How? Why. I lost It; isn't that enough?"

None of Miss Lewis's Pennington friends seemed to know of this loss when they wore interviewed on Tuesday.
"I am going to teach school again in Wood-ville, beginning on Sept. I." said Miss Lewis, and until then I may remain Lere or I may go away. I shall certainly please myself."

Warren Corwin, the proprietor of the Ocean View House, said that he had secured the services of Miss Lewis through a New York employment agency.

A Congress Convention Adjourns Without Making a Nomination.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, July 31.-The Tenth Congress Convention, which has been in session at Washington Court House since Tuesday morning, adjourned sine die to-night without nominating any one. During that time $75 ballots were taken, and the last one time 475 ballots were taken, and the last one was the same as the first. This morning Greene county tried to break the deadlock and honored Gen. A. S. Bushnell of this city with her 45 votes.

He could have been nominated, but positively declined. E. S. Wallace, candidate from Clark county, received 92 votes on the thirty-ninth ballot. 115 being required to nominate. This was the highest number obtained by any candidate. Favette county honored him with her vote, i utalterward returned to Gen. Hurst of Ross county, and remained with him until the ond.

The adjournment means a nomination by direct vote of the people. The probabilities are that some dark horse will be nominated. Expeaker Keifer, Gen. Bushnell and Oscar T. Martin of Springfield, and Hon. Millis Gardiner of Fayette are spokeo of.

Charges Against Sallors on the Kearsarg Courts martial, it is said, will soon be ordered in the cases of several members of the crew of the United States ship Kearsarge, which reached the navy yard in Brookly ii on Wednesday. The trouble grew ou of the alleged questionable methods which some mem-bers of the crew employed to recurs their back pay while the vesses was lying at key West. The rule in the nava saryive is that the sallors are easy to receive oue-tiful of their may each monta, but there is also a rine established a year ago by secretary fracy, that the men under certain organizatances can transfer their just to relatives or other recens. It was in making these transfers that the acts complained of, which in-counts forgery of endor-genesis, and upon which the courts martial are to be ordered, took place.

Tolo Held for the Grand Jury. Veto Tolo, or Curo, the Italian who stabled and killed Peter Keogh in Laidlaw avenue, Jersey City Heights, last Saturday night, was arraigned before Justice Wan last Saturday night, was arraigned before Justice Waiser in the Second District Folice Court yesterday. He was doubly handonied, and guarded by two policemen, the pleaded, not guity. Richard Whish and Thomas Keogh, hit Tolo with a watermelor rind, and Tolo turned and plonged a bufe into him. Tolo was committed to the county jail without ball to await the action of the Grand Jury.
